

Brief biography: Evelyn Trevino

As Acting Program Coordinator for the Healthy Communities Program in San Bernardino County, Evelyn coordinates the multi-sectorial partnerships that make up the region's Healthy Communities. This includes providing technical assistance, for example local health statistics and specific recommendations for policy and environmental strategies to improve residents' health.

Prior to this assignment Evelyn was a statistician for the public health department. Before entering the public sector she worked in the aerospace industry for over fifteen years in systems engineering including research, development, testing, and evaluation.

Evelyn received a bachelor's degree in Cybernetics and a master's degree in Engineering from the University of California, Los Angeles. Evelyn continues to update her education, especially with regards to the built environment and health, and attended the inaugural Built Environment Assessment Training Institute at Emory University and the Health Impact Assessment Practitioners Summer Training Course from UC Berkeley. She also has completed the San Bernardino County Management Leadership Academy.
